From the Editor

Summer is finally here! The area swells with passers-through, day-trippers, weekenders, and monthly/seasonal vacationers, just as it has for many decades. Then there are the occasional old-tyme residents of yore, now residing way out West or way down South, popping back to visit friends and enjoy a respite from those triple-digit degrees.

Perhaps this is the first time you've been over our way this year. So there is a good chance that this could be the very first issue of Wawarsing.Net you've seen. If so, welcome! We hope you enjoy it... and our community.

As you can see, this is our eighth monthly issue, as we began back in December. If you would like to catch up on all the previous editions, the Town Hall on Canal Street, and the Chamber Office on Berme Road, have all of the issues on hand; most back-issues are also available at the Shadowland Theatre on Canal Street.

(A side note about some typographic conventions we use, as in the previous paragraph: Buildings, streets, and other locations are usually bold-typed, as are dates and times of events, all to make them easier to spot.

Businesses, organizations, publications, events, and awards are usually italicized, but only if they are local. Sometimes, as in the case of the Shadowland, it's an editor's context call; after all, it is a building and also a business/organization!

Oh, and references within an article about the subject or source of the article itself are usually bold italic. And all references to the Chamber of Commerce, its events, committees, and projects (including Wawarsing.Net, of course) get the super-duper bold-italic treatment.)

To make it easier to find us, especially during the busy summer months, we've broken our region into zones, which are in the box at bottom left. More conventions: the bold italic zones are street sections in Ellenville; the larger bold zones are distinct sub-regions. And the distributors in small bold in each zone are our "anchor" spots... one or more high-traffic, high-visibility locations in each zone where we try to get the issues as soon as possible, and enough copies so they don't run out too soon.

Thanks to those who pointed out that the golfer on last month's cover shot (the 1978 Nevele Golf Course) was Jack Breno, who was 35 years a "pro's pro" at the Nevele. Jack is now the head teaching pro at Rondout Golf Club (www.rondoutgolfclub.com/staff.htm). Fore!

Cover: Ellenville 4th of July Parade 2001, Town of Wawarsing, Ulster County, New York, USA. Crowds, floats, giant balloons... and Mummers! The classic parade! Adapted from a photo taken by Sylvia Kalipolites from the reviewing stand in Liberty Square, looking down Canal Street. See Page 16 for Marion Dumond's article on how we've celebrated The Fourth locally since 1776.
