

Blueberry Harvest Festival

The Blueberry Harvest Festival – combining the former Harvest Music Festival with the Blueberry Festival previously held at the Farmers' Market – will take place Saturday, August 23rd, 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM in Liberty Square. The Festival is looking for organizations to sell homemade baked goods at the all-blueberry bake sale. Baked goods have never failed to sell out early at the Blueberry Festival. If you'd like to raise funds for your organization by participating, please let us know. Also, we'd like to have all our $100 donations pledged soon after the release of July's Wawarsing.Net (this issue!).

To have your business or group listed among the Friends of the Festival in August's Wawarsing.Net, brochures, and posters at the event, call John Adams (in photo, right, of previous Blueberry Festival) at 647-5626 by July 15th to make your pledge of $100 or more.

Volunteers are needed to make the festival fun for everyone. Come be a part of the festivities and show your pride in our community.

Shadowland Theatre

JULY 11 – AUGUST 3: WHAT THE BUTLER SAW

– written by Joe Orton, Farce. (Rated PG-13)
Co-Produced by Dawn & Mario Martinez and Thornton Plumbing, Heating & Electric.

The story: The Prentices are not an ordinary couple. Dr. Prentice is a psychiatrist with his own hospital who believes the best way to interview a girl for a job is to seduce her. Geraldine does her best to comply, but nothing is going to work smoothly in this nut house that includes Mrs. Prentice, a nymphomaniac who is seduced by a bellhop in a hotel, or maybe it's vice versa. Anyway, Mrs. Prentice brings home her reluctant bellhop, just as the state inspector decides to pay a visit to the hospital. What ensues is a wild melee of disappearances, disguises and discoveries as husband and wife try to hide their prizes from one another and from the state inspector. Even a wound-up policeman gets giddy from the goings-on. And the ending is one of those delights that Oscar Wilde might have dreamed up. (See ad on Page 18 for more.)

“Brilliant, witty, the funniest show so far this season.”
