

ERH Welcomes Dr. Mirrer Back!

Ellenville Regional Hospital takes great pleasure in announcing that Dr. Brooks Mirrer, ERH's cardiologist, has returned from a leave of absence and has resumed his full schedule of medical activities. Dr. Mirrer provides cardiac care to both inpatients and outpatients at the hospital.

Dr. Mirrer moved to Ellenville in 2001, having served on staff at Beth Israel Hospital in New York City, and as Assistant Professor of Medicine at New York Medical College. His education included a Bachelor of Arts degree from New York University and his M.D. from the University of Chicago's Pritzker School of Medicine. He served his internship at Montefiore Hospital, New York City, his residency at Montefiore and Cook County Hospital, Chicago, and a fellowship in Adult Cardiology at Cook County Hospital.

He is fully certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine and the Subspecialty Board of Cardiovascular Disease.

Dr. Mirrer lives in Ellenville with his wife Kristine and their two children. At Ellenville Regional Hospital, Dr. Mirrer and the Cardiology Department provide a broad range of services, including cardiology consultations, EKGs, stress testing, stress echoes, echocardiograms, pacemaker checks, and ambulatory monitoring.

Dr. Mirrer's many patients, and the local community, welcome him back to the Hospital with open arms. In the few short years that he has been part of the local hospital staff, Dr. Mirrer has established himself firmly as a very valued participant in Ellenville Regional Hospital's service to the local area.
