FRANKIE AND JOHNNY IN THE CLAIRE DU LUNE, by Terrence McNally

Sept 10-Sept 26, Comedy/Drama, rated R for explicit sexual situations and adult language. Winner of the Dramatists Guild's Hull Warriner Award.

The Story: The setting is a walk-up apartment on Manhattan's West Side, where, as the curtain rises, Frankie (a waitress) and Johnny (a short-order cook who works in the same restaurant) are discovered in bed. It is their first encounter, after having met several weeks ago on the job, and Frankie is hopeful that Johnny will now put on his clothes and depart, so she can return to her usual routine of watching TV and eating ice cream. But Johnny, a compulsive talker (and romantic), has other ideas. He is convinced that he loves Frankie, a notion that she, at first, considers to be ridiculous. She has had more disappointments than delights in life, and he is the veteran of one broken marriage already. And neither of them is in the bloom of youth. Yet out of their sometimes touching, sometimes hilarious interplay, the promise of a relationship beyond a "one-night stand" does begin to emerge and, as the lights dim, they are back in bed again, but this time side-by-side, holding hands before a glowing television screen. "A romantic two-hander with character depth and an abundance of laughs." – Variety.

"A richly warm, humorous, clear-eyed portrait of the beginning of a relationship, it cuts deeper to the heart than any previously seen McNally works." – Drama-Logue.

"A very sweet, extraordinarily funny, romantic and ribald comedy." – NY Post.

"Terrence McNally is one of our most original and audacious dramatists and one of our funniest." – The New Yorker.
